Terms and Conditions for Media Accreditation

Premier Soccer League (PSL) Media accreditation is strictly reserved for members of the sports media; print, photo, radio, TV, film, news agencies and online media - who represent a bona fide media organization. Only PSL accredited media personnel are allowed to cover PSL matches including pre-match and post-match interviews. Please present the following for consideration:

1. Completed accreditation form and authorisation signed by the Sports Editor, specifying the name and functional title of the journalist. Un-authorized applications will not be accepted.
2. Passport size photo for all applications.

All PSL Media Accredited personnel, broadcast, film, video production companies or third parties are required to obtain a letter of clearance from the PSL in order to conduct pre-match, post-match video filming, broadcasts or live streaming of PSL content before, during and after PSL matches whether on a delayed or live platform. Video filming equipment that is brought into match venues without authorization may be confiscated

All PSL accredited media representatives will be required to be located at designated media areas or facilities and abide by the PSL media guidelines and instructions. Such designations, guidelines and instructions may be altered without prior notification

PSL Accredited Photographers will be required to wear the designated photographer's apparel at all times during PSL matches.

Freelance Journalists: Freelance journalists including photographers, must provide clear evidence they are regularly on assignment from a specific news organization or publication and may only obtain accreditation if their work promotes the values and core business of the PSL.

Media accreditation rights for PSL matches will be granted at the PSL's sole discretion and may be denied, suspended or withdrawn with immediate effect at the PSL's sole discretion.

Acceptance: You are required to sign this application form as consent to the requirements contained herein including adherence to the PSL media policies, guidelines and instructions which may be reviewed periodically.
